Excess Profits Tax Not Likely For The Present

Only Interim Tax Planned Just Now Sen. George Says

By FRANK B. ALLEN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Advocates of an immediate excess profits tax were accused today of using the Korean war as a pretext to curb peacetime profits.

A proponent of the levy flatly denied it.

At the same time, powerful Finance Chairman George (D) Ga., said bluntly "there will be merely an interim tax or nothing."

George said that if excess profits tax advocates succeed in attaching the income tax levy to the stop-gap tax bill he will ask the senate to send the whole thing back to the committee.

"Peacetime Tax"

George and Sen. Byrd (D) Va., accused advocates of wanting a "peacetime excess profits tax."

Sen. O'Mahoney (D) Wyo., said: "My excess profits amendment is a Korean war tax and nothing more. Any proposal to delay the excess profits tax is a proposal to let inflation get a six-months head start."

At the same time, Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, called for "a thorough re-writing of the tax system" early next year.

In his weekly news statement Taft pointed out that the five billion dollar bill being written now is merely a stop-gap measure.

Taft said the question of excess profits taxes "probably will be postponed" until next year, but added that however, "there is much support for it today."

PA NEWS & OBSERVES

Home owners about the city who have had the exterior of their homes decorated this present summer, have certainly chosen a wide variety of colors in their paint selections. Up west side way near the city limits one boasts a vivid red, while on either side in contrast ivory colored houses stand. Various hues of green have found their way in almost every section of the city.

The railroad crossing at Grove street near South Mill was being improved by workmen Tuesday afternoon. Boards on the crossing which had become worn were being replaced in order that a smoother crossing might be effected.

One wonders why there is no pavement in the front of some properties in our city, while there is an improved walk in front of other lots. When there is no pavement, the walking is difficult, especially when it rains. Pa News also notices that some of the houses are not marked with street numbers, which makes it hard for residents of the city and guests here to locate various homes.

One workman engaged in building scaffolding for the second pier on the new bridge that is to cross the Neshannock near South Jefferson street got an unexpected "ducking" on Tuesday afternoon. While crossing a pool of water on a thin board, the makeshift foot bridge broke and the workman found himself in the cool water. The "dip" was a bit refreshing to the perishing worker.

State street which is used quite extensively as a "short-cut" for motorists to get to the downtown section, could stand a good re-surfacing job. The street has stood up well since it was placed a number of years ago and the breakdown is really no shame.

Gladious gardens about the city are getting ready to put on the seasons' finest show. The flowers are just coming in and bouquets will soon be brightening church altars and various social gatherings about the city.

House Support Is Predicted For Controls

Will Give Truman Wide Authority

By SAM FOGG (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Full House support is forecast today for a bipartisan formula giving President Truman a free hand in imposing price and wage controls.

Committee Amendment

The committee by a 21 to 1 vote late yesterday adopted an amendment approved by the Senate banking committee which would give the president the stand-by powers to freeze prices and wages when, where and how he wishes.

The committee agreement which came after a five-hour closed session was seen as the key which will break the stalemate which has existed in the House since debate on the bill began last Wednesday.

The compromise amendment giving Mr. Truman price and wage controls on the terms he asked them will be presented as a committee-sponsored move and is expected to enlist full support on both sides of the aisle.

As a result of the agreement, the House is expected to discard an amendment sponsored by Rep. McKinnon (D) Calif., which would have compelled the president to impose the price and wage freeze

Sub Rescue Ship Goes To Turkey

By WILLIAM KERWIN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Another United States warship was earmarked today for European delivery under America's "accelerating" military aid program to strengthen defenses of the western world against communism.

The Navy announced the submarine rescue ship Bluebird will be officially turned over to Turkey at the New London, Conn., naval base August 15.

Next Saturday the Navy will hand over two escort vessels, the Samuel S. Miles and the Riddle, to France at the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard.

With almost two and a half billion dollars already granted by Congress and another four billions in the works, officials reported that the aid operation is beginning to hit full stride.

Order Rahauer To Stop Probe

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Chief Justice James B. Dew of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court today ordered Allegheny County District Attorney William S. Rahauer to halt his grand jury investigation into misuses of Pittsburgh city workmen and materials.

He set next Wednesday as the date for convening a special session of the supreme court to hear an appeal of supercharge by State Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti.

Margiotti asked the high court to stop Rahauer's investigation and permit his office to do the job. Rahauer started his probe last Monday.

Air-Artillery Pin Reds Down

By FRANK CONNIFF (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ON THE SOUTH FRONT

KOREA, Aug. 9.—U. S. Airmen and Artillerymen developed novel tactics today to forestall another enemy road block such as that which hobbled the American attack yesterday.

Along the narrow lifeline of wretched road that links forward units to the important supply base of Masan, practically every hillside was hammered from the air and by artillery field batteries.

Working in beautiful precision, American jets spit rockets and strafed the hillsides as soon as the field batteries let up momentarily with their 105s and 155s.

Big Guns First

First, the big guns would blast away at the Mountsides and then along would come the planes to make their strafing runs and lay their rockets into the flaming shrub.

May Be Some Red Faces

By CHARLES E. SEIB (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Senate investigators launched a probe of wire-tapping today which is expected to contain juicy overtones of scandalous doings in the capital's high society.

Lead-off witness at the closed-door session of special District of Columbia subcommittee will be Maj. Robert Barrett, chief of Washington's police force. He has been instructed to bring with him a secret report on the wire tapping activities of Police Lt. Joseph W. Shimon, who is reputed to be an expert on such matters.

'Big Names'

Although the report has been closely guarded authoritative sources disclosed that it contains opportunity to appear before the subcommittee to formally deny the reports and Neely said that such a request would "certainly be granted."

Brewster has already denied to reporters that he authorized any listening-in on Hughes. He said flatly in a recent interview: "I have never authorized, directed or had any knowledge or discussion of wire-tapping."

The inquiry, which will be chaired by Sen. Pepper (D) Fla., will also look into reported secret use by government agencies of machines that record telephone conversations.

Pepper said that he even plans to question makers of the electronic devices used to make the taps to determine how many are in use in the capital and who has them.

Brewster is expected to ask an

NEW BRIDGE ABUTMENTS NEARING COMPLETION

Progress in the construction of the Neshannock creek bridge, south of the main business district of New Castle, can be noted in late pictures of building activities.

The center abutment in the span is about completed and contractors are now pouring concrete for the south abutment. Work on the north abutment consists of building forms for the concrete.

It was necessary to drive many more piling than originally anticipated. This was made necessary by the type of sub-strata in the river bed.

The steel and concrete bridge, when completed, will represent the materialization of a 30-year dream for many New Castle residents and business people.

It is an important link in the long range proposal for an extensive route 422 by-pass through the city. When put into use at the end of the year, the bridge will be part of the by-pass across the creek. However, even longer range plans call for the bridge to lead to viaduct across to the West Side on a main arterial highway.

New Castle Duntle Co. is building the bridge at a cost to the state of $230,083. Lawrence County has contributed $35,000 of that expense.

229th Field Artillery Starts Recruiting Today

It's R-month for the 229th Field Artillery Battalion of Pennsylvania's 28th Infantry Division.

The "R" stands for recruiting. And the 229th needs 100 or more men before it shoves off for training as part of the regular United States Army early in September.

Young men 17-35, with or without previous federal service are eligible to join. Men over 35 with a little previous federal service are also eligible.

New Castle has three units or batteries of the 229th. These are the medical detachment, service battery and headquarters battery. Other units that actually man the guns are stationed nearby such as at Grove City.

Specialists are needed in many fields. These include radio men, telephone men, auto mechanics, survey and instrument men, fire controlmen, drivers, cooks, bakers, administrative clerks, personnel administrators, gunners, medical men of all kinds, and a doctor. The doctor can be commissioned immediately with the rank of captain.

Serve One Area

Once the 229th goes into federal service, it will be one compact unit. Men will be distributed to units other than the ones stationed in New Castle, but all will probably be from the same geographical area—western Pennsylvania.

Malik Refuses To Call Vote

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 9.—The United States and all members of the U.N. Security Council except Russia confer today on measures to compel Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik to obey the rules governing an incumbent chairman.

Flat refusal by the Russian chairman to repeated demands to call a vote and open the way for seating the South Korean representative in yesterday's session of the Security Council led the Western delegates to adjourn the meeting until Thursday afternoon and consult meanwhile on the following alternatives:

Change Procedure

1. Change the rules of procedure so as to enable the council to suspend the president.

2. To have agreement among the delegates to boycott the Security Council meetings until Malik's term as chairman expires at the end of August.

3. Transfer the Korean issue to a special session of the general assembly.

Can't Fill 'Er Up Down Jersey Way

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Thousands of perplexed New Jersey motorists discovered today that "fill 'er up" may be strictly a ghost phrase in nine New Jersey counties for the next week.

Some 2500 retail service station dealers shutdown this morning for a gasoline "vacation" ordered in an effort to cope with a crippling price war.

An estimated 1,000,000 New Jersey motorists anxiously probed for gas stations remaining open or not affected by the shutdown.

Price War

The dealers, members of the New Jersey Gasoline Retailers Association, voted the shutdown at a meeting in Trenton yesterday.

The session was called in hopes of working out a solution to the price war which has been marked by retail cuts of as much as five cents a gallon.

Association president John Dressler, of Hackensack, told the dealers:

"This is a fight—and in a fight you get no guarantee. Give it everything you've got and hope to win."

Some retailers have accused the Sun Oil Company of starting the war by cutting its price in Camden to meet that of a competitor, safe-way.

But in Philadelphia the Sun Oil Co. said such an accusation was "untrue and slanderous."

Acme Gas To Extend Lines Into Beaver

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The Acme Natural Gas Co., of Butler, has been authorized by the Public Utility Commission to extend its operating rights into Franklin township, Beaver county.

Acme serves 34 other industrial clients in a six county area in western Pennsylvania.

Aerial Strafings Force Red Troops To Leave Chinju

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN (Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Aug. 10.—(Thursday)—American troops scored new gains up to four miles and drove to within seven miles of Chinju Wednesday night while enemy forces farther north were flung back across the Nakdong river.

Red troops were reported driven from Chinju to surrounding hills by sustained American aerial smashes and also were described as in confused retreat in other sectors of the south and central fronts.

As U. S. and South Korean divisions dealt trip-hammer blows against the enemy, General Douglas MacArthur's Headquarters omitted the usual midnight communique.

In the southern battlezone a U. S. Marine spokesman announced that combined army and leatherneck forces gained four miles westward Wednesday in the third day of their offensive to wreck the enemy's threat to Pusan.

This meant a three-day advance of six to seven miles and brought American vanguards within seven miles east of Chinju, the big hub from which the North Koreans had launched their push on the key-stone port of Pusan.

A Wednesday night 8th Army field bulletin announced that patrols of the U. S. Army's 35th Regimental combat team, one of three columns closing in toward Chinju, had thrust within seven miles of the city.

A spokesman at American Field Headquarters in Korea said the Reds were forced out of Chinju several days ago by American air strikes but are holding hills around the city.

Commenting on reports the invaders were evacuating Chinju, the spokesman said:

"You can't evacuate a town you are not holding."

Before Wednesday's renewed American advance was started, tank-tipped U. S. spearheads already had reached points 11 to 12 miles from Chinju.

In the central sector, the South Korean Army's First Division wiped out a Communist bridgehead on the Nakdong's east bank just above Waegwan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu, northwest corner-stone of the United Nations front.

Back Across River

The South Koreans "have driven the northern (enemy) crossing force back across the river," said a Wednesday night communique from U. S. 8th Army Field Headquarters.

South of Waegwan, the official bulletin announced, the U. S. First Cavalry Division pushed another Communist crossing column "back to the water's edge."

The communique quoted the First Cavalry Division commanders as reporting that "the North Koreans will be unable to reinforce their units during the night."

Graduation Record Is Set By Geneva

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Aug. 9.—A year-round commencement record will be completed at Geneva College when 88 seniors graduate Thursday evening, August 10, at 8 o'clock in Reeves Stadium.

Surpassing a total annual figure of 265, including the August division, the school also graduated 41 in January and 158 in June of this year. The figure stands well over the previous high of 245 graduates in 1949.

Featured in the commencement program will be an address to the graduates by Dr. George A. Long, president of the Pittsburgh-Kenia Theological Seminary of the United Presbyterian church.

Jap Treaty Soon, Thought Certain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—United States policy makers are convinced that war in the Far East will force signing of a Japanese peace treaty as soon as possible.

John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign policy advisor now directing a draft of the document, is reportedly urging an early treaty. He returned to Washington from Asia just after the Korean invasion.

He talked at length with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo after Defense Secretary Johnson and Chief of Staff Omar L. Bradley had met with the supreme allied commander.

It is understood that, while it will precipitate a strenuous political battle in Japan, bases for the defense of the islands will be insisted upon.

Communist Threat

The increasing threat of communist aggression both from Korea, should UN forces lose the country, as well as from the Chinese mainland, are said to be compelling forces working for retention of military rights.

The Korean incident also is expected to lessen chances of successful Japanese political opposition to the peace provision.

Another factor impelling an early treaty is the reduction of the occupation army and the ensuing savings at a time when military costs are mounting seriously.

Participation by Russia and communist China has already been ruled out, even though the latter should be voted admission to the United Nations in the meanwhile.

Because of its small claim to government, the Chinese Nationalists, if they join at all, are expected to follow the major powers.

Will Hold Taegu, Top Brass Thinks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—A military spokesman declared today that Washington headquarters is optimistic that United Nations forces can hold the strategic communications center of Taegu on the central front in South Korea.

The Pentagon spokesman told newsmen that headquarters "is not alarmed at all" that communist forces may be only 12 miles from Taegu. He declared:

"Taegu is not in serious danger. The situation seems to be clearing up."

If United Nations forces are required to withdraw beyond Taegu the spokesman said it would not be "disastrous" but the loss of the communications center could be considered "serious."

Generally, there was "gradual improvement" in the United Nations position on the North Korean front and "continued improvement" in the central sector. In the south, American troops continued advances against the communist enemy.

Aerial Strafings Force Red Troops To Leave Chingju

A squadron, out from their bridgehead to within 11 miles of Taegu before the counter-attacking Americans drove them back to the river's east bank.

The 8th Army bulletin, issued at 6:30 Wednesday evening (4:30 a. m. EDT), said "pressure" by other Red troops, which had crossed the northern shoulder of the Nakdong by South Korean troops.

This setback was dealt the enemy in the vicinity of Yongdong, 34 miles north of Taegu, the South Korean government's emergency capital astride the principal inland rail-highway route to all-important Pusan. Yongdong is 11 miles northwest of Kunwi, northern gateway to Taegu.

The U. S. Marine spokesman's announcement in the day's four-mile advance in the south was quoted by International News Service War Correspondent John Rich in a dispatch from the crucial sector.

The dispatch, received at 8:55 Wednesday evening (6:55 a. m. EDT), said the gains were scored against "scattered opposition."

The seven-ply hub of Chingju was brought within range of American 155mm guns as the doughboys and marines, paced by tanks and flame-throwers, broke into the city's near approaches. Chingju lies 52 air miles west of the harbor of Masan.

Wednesday afternoon's sudden decrease of Red opposition to the Korean War's first major American offensive action indicated that the U. S. drive "may have softened the enemy as badly as refugees (from Chingju) have reported."

"The attack is continuing," said the Marine spokesman Wednesday night, as quoted by Rich.

The three-pronged American push was closing in from the northeast, east and southeast in an effort to force the invaders to retreat from Chingju, the lower hinge of their entire front.

The Americans smashed ahead in the south, leaving behind some small pockets of enemy resistance to be mopped up.

The Marine spokesman described American casualties in the day's fighting as "light."

H. F. Burt, chairman of this fall's Dollar Day, stated: "What we want to make clear is, that this sale is not a clean-up sale of old and soiled summer items and clothes. Certainly there will be some summer clothes on sale, but most of the merchandise is first-class, new merchandise."

The various stores will have their own bargains. Special bargain prices will be attached to each item. Now is the time for the thrifty housewife to shop for her family. There will be items for dad, for mother and for the young ones in the family.

tion, American infantrymen and tanks advanced with confidence down the road leading toward Chingju.

Perhaps the artillerymen were firing on observed targets, but it seemed to this correspondent more of a calculated pattern designed to keep the Communists from forming for an attack in any of the hills.

"Those guns make a rifleman feel pretty good," said Pvt. Julio Rodriguez of (416 Grant Street) New York City, as the rocket-bombing planes dipped and rained metal on one mountainside.

It was like old times on this crucial southern front, today for anyone who—like this correspondent—remembers the U. S. Army when it was triumphantly lunging across Europe behind a screen of planes, tanks and guns.

Our offensive here in this Korean sector had bogged down for 36 hours while our infantry and armored units got themselves into position to deliver an effective punch.

229th FIELD ARTILLERY STARTS RECRUITING

Artillery, made the following statement today about personnel now enlisting:

"We know going to the army is not always looked upon as the most pleasant experience in a boy's life. However, a realistic view of the current world situation reveals that now is the time for a man to go. His country needs him and he will be assured of the best, and most thorough training with a crack outfit. If he waits to go under other circumstances he may be sent into action long before he feels he is mentally and physically prepared."

And the Colonel wasn't kidding about the crack outfit.

The 28th Division of Pennsylvania has always more than adequately answered its country's call. The 229th is one of the best of the division.

Win Unit Trophy

Recently at Indiantown Gap training exercises, the 229th was awarded the General Wallace trophy unit citation. This award is given to the troop that excels in all phases of military life. This includes gun maneuvers, accuracy, courtesy, military bearing, barracks, and overall efficiency.

The 229th will meet three evenings a week for the next month before departing for training at Atterbury, Indiana. Enlistment may be made at the armory any evening.

Receive Benefits

Men who enlist will receive the benefits accorded all federal soldiers. This includes longevity and such items as family allowances and G. I. Bill of Rights if the latter two are restored as in World War II.

O'Mahoney and Rep. Mills (D) Ark., leading house advocate of an immediate excess profits tax, were not deterred by Treasury Secretary Snyder's statement that the administration will not ask for a war profit tax until January.

Mills said that congress should not delay. He said corporations want to know the situation as soon as possible.

Senate Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., said he had not decided whether to support it. He said: "I don't always follow treasury recommendations."

LEGIONNAIRES CONVENE TODAY

national News Service that universal military service will be one of the top demands to be made by the department.

Warning that this may be the last state convention while the nation is "technically at peace," Alessandrini called for all-out conversion to a wartime footing at home, and also possible rearmament of Japanese and German ground forces.

The Legion's resolutions are expected to be strongly worded measures to provide for mobilizing the nation's entire production capacity as well as men and women from all walks of life into the war effort.

In line with the all-out effort is slated to be a demand for a "no strike, no lockout" pledge by management and labor during the Korean crisis.

New Commander

Alessandrini will step down from the commander's post at the conclusion of the convention on Saturday, because he is ineligible to succeed himself.

Top prospect for the office is Joseph McCracken, of Kingston, past vice-commander, and chairman of the Legion's powerful Americanism committee.

Alessandrini, it was reported, is being groomed for National Commander in 1952. A reserve officer with the Marine Corp awaiting call, he served as a captain in the South Pacific.

Although orders have gone out to the Legionnaires to dispense with the traditional horseplay accompanying their conventions, the conclave will have several colorful sidelights, including the parade of the 40 and 8 funmaking body tomorrow night, a talent show for its drum and bugle corps Friday night, and a mammoth parade on Saturday.

HARRIMAN REPORTS TO PRESIDENT

tions with MacArthur and other American commanders in Korea. He told newsmen:

MacArthur Confident

"There is confidence on the part of Gen. MacArthur that they can hold and be able to clean out those fellows when they get the build-up."

Mr. Truman's foreign affairs adviser said U. S. forces in Korea have "great confidence" in the South Korean armies. He added that "they are fighting well and supporting our operations completely."

Harriman said the South Koreans also are loading and unloading ships and running the railroads in that country.

He asserted there is no danger of sabotage "because the South Korean police have taken care of that."

Harriman promised newsmen a more detailed account of his Far Eastern trip at a news conference early this afternoon.

He appeared exhausted after his five-day journey, three days of which were spent in flight, and declined to discuss his talks with MacArthur.

HOUSE SUPPORT IS PREDICTED FOR CONTROLS

whenever the cost of living index rose 5 percent above the pre-Korean level of June 15.

Unacceptable To Him

The chief executive warned that such a formula would be unacceptable to him.

Mr. Truman may find however that the House in a compromise mood may strip him of some of the immediate powers he asked to channel scarce defense materials and deal with inflation during the Korean crisis.

An administration supporter said it is likely that the House will reject his request for authority to control speculation on the commodity exchanges and sharply curtail his power to control the nation's credit activities.

MALIK REFUSES TO CALL VOTE

walks in "empty handed" and merely resumes the filibustering tactics.

Prevailing opinion is that a special session of the general assembly will be favored. Last Monday, Secretary General Trygve Lie said such a meeting could be convened on 24 hours notice.

In the closing hour of last night's session, U. S. Chief Delegate Warren R. Austin took the floor in wrath against Malik's obstructionist maneuvers and for the first time accused Russia of "assisting the invaders" in the Security Council.

Names Soviets

He stated categorically that the Soviet Union has the power to call off the North Korean invading forces. Austin stabbed his finger at Malik and in loud voice said: "Who has the influence and the power to call off the invading Northern Korean army? The Soviet Union."

Austin proposed in moving adjournment of the council that Malik seek new instructions from the Russian government on the seating of the South Korean delegate. The motion was carried by 9 to 1, with Russia in the negative and Yugoslavia abstaining.

Malik's effort to get a meeting for today was defeated.

59c Dollars in Funeral Service . . .

Funeral service has been plagued by the same higher costs that these inflationary post war days have brought to everything else.

The wholesale price of caskets, our motor cars and everything else in the line of equipment costs far more than in prewar days. Necessarily, this has caused some increase in the charges that must be made for funerals.

The management of the Boyd Home for Funerals takes pride in the fact that prices here have been kept lower than these cost increases would warrant. We still offer complete funerals in a wide range of prices—well within the means of every family.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB
(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 9.—If this dispatch smells of garlic it is because I have just returned from a Basque picnic where I ate my weight in chorizo.

The chorizo is a hot-dog from the Pyrenees. It is one more of the civilized blessings bestowed upon this area by its citizens of Basque descent.

The largest colony of these proud, independent people on the North American continent centers in Boise. They have fused their pride, honor, love of liberty, their deep-seated courtesy and their laughter with American pioneer stock that scarcely beat the Basques to what was then Indian territory.

Live Near Boise

Some 5,000 Basques and their descendants today live in or near Boise. And whatever this community has bestowed upon them in the way of political freedom, economic opportunity and education, they have returned pressed down and running over in intelligence and hard work. Nor is that all. Their spirited music and their magnificent dancing have kept more people young in this valley than a carload of monkey glands. A group of Basque men and women dancing La Jota and Pasaola to the music of an accordion, guitar and tambourine is the only precision dancing in America today that can challenge the Rockettes.

At the picnic today I kept thinking that a group of Basque-Americans doing La Jota at the Stork club or El Morocco would drive right back into the wood-work from whence came the Rumba and the Samba addicts, while a group of Basque elders—men and women in their 60s and 70s who learned to dance in the Pyrenees—would create a sensation.

Basque grandchildren and great-grandchildren are encouraged, as a matter of civic pride, to learn the old dances. But it is the grandparents themselves who do the old dances with incredible grace, speed and precision. It is these older feet that seem winged and scarcely to touch the ground in the fast, staccato movements of the dance. They are grace incarnate. And, apparently, no Basque is ever too old to dance as long as the music lasts.

New York has been the melting pot of every type of emigrant except the Basque. He headed for the great open spaces the minute he shook the red tape of Ellis Island from his beret. Since two Basque brothers braved the wilds of Nevada in 1850, a steady trickle of emigrants from the Spanish Pyrenees has flowed into Idaho, Nevada and Montana.

From the first they have been irrevocably identified with the sheep industry. In the beginning they spoke no English but it made no difference to the sheep they herded. And their scrupulous honesty endeared them mightily to flock masters who sent them into the hills with large bands of sheep.

Many a rich and prominent Basque-American family today owes the base of its fortune to a grandfather or great-grandfather who herded sheep in the old days for a few dollars a month and a certain percentage of the lambs each spring. That percentage set up many a Basque in the sheep business on his own.

The Basque volunteer reserve company is the only military unit of its kind in the United States.

Back To Chorizo
But to get back to the chorizo: It is a Basque hot-dog of ground loin of pork, seasoned with pimientos, red-hot peppers, garlic and salt. Once it was only obtainable in Basque households. But there are now so many Basques in the valley that butcher shops make and sell it across the counter.

The Basques have not only spiced the music and dancing in this vicinity, but likewise the cuisine. One of the favorite dishes in this territory is Basque codfish (bacalao vicalyno). First soak a pound package of dry salt codfish overnight.

Then saute together a large sweet onion and a green pepper diced. Add to this a can of tomatoes or its equivalent in fresh tomatoes. Simmer the onion, pepper and tomatoes together. Cut the codfish into shares or shred in large flakes. Mix all ingredients in a casserole. Cover the casserole, cook in slow oven for two hours and then, a feast a la Basque.

In The Open

We splashed around in a remote mountain bog, walking boldly amid a host of the most bloodthirsty assassins still at large in the countryside. These silent treacherous killers were all about, plying their ruthless trade in refined murder with techniques reminiscent of the horrors of the Inquisition. While rhododendron cherished its final blossoms in the hemlock edgings, and swamp rose laid its delightful fragrance on the humid air, these shareholders in Murder, Inc., dealt out lingering death along the hidden swampland trails.

In the open cranberry bog the little round-leaved sundew had set glistening traps to allure its trusting victims. It is certainly an innocent looking killer, with a tiny white blossom open in the sun and its leaves gleaming with what look like dewdrops. Along comes an unsuspecting fly to have a sip and what happens? Those treacherous dewdrops instantly glue his feet and the pretty reddish hairs on the leaf start closing in upon him.

As he struggles the sensitive hairs work faster. More of the sticky fluid binds and suffocates him. Finally the leaf rolls inward, making a temporary stomach. On the death of the hapless fly the leaf actually secretes a peptic fluid to help in digesting this latest victim. When assimilation is complete the deadly leaf opens again and sets the sticky trap for the next victim.

Stalking the center of the bog were great clumps of pitcher-plant, perhaps the largest station of this wet-footed murderer in the whole area. This fellow can't digest his insect fare like the sundew, but makes out all right on the bee and beetle soup concocted in those slippery horror chambers. The "pitchers" are half-filled with water in which the many insects which crawl eagerly into the inviting openings are drowned.

A sweet secretion inside the pitcher's neck lures the tiny victims. Emboldened by this easy feast they crawl on into the trap, only to slip off into the watery grave waiting below. Lack of nitrogen in the soil is perhaps what forced these lethal bog dwellers to their carnivorous diet. Be that as it may, the countryman knows them as assassins, and tremendously interesting.

Below the cool sphagnum-choked bog area the marsh spreads wide across an upland valley. Many acres of this flatland paraded the nut-brown fruiting heads of a tall wild marsh grass. Far off across this sea of rippling shoulder-high "marsh hay" a pair of marsh hawks dipped and soared above the brown "waves".

The countryman is always gripped by the throbbing spectacle of a pair of these marsh harriers on the wing. Their long wings make the birds look quite large in flight and the distinctive white patch on the lower back is a non-mistakable field mark. As we watched the great birds coursed low above the waving grass, expertly quartering their hunting grounds for the mice which are their main dietary item. While the harriers performed in the distance a short-billed marsh wren set up his chop-chop song from the sedge close at hand. Another echoed him from somewhere off to the left but we were too absorbed in the hawks to pay much heed. There was cotton grass in the soggy bog, and mountain holly, and large stations of golden club and the three-leaved buckbeam.

Sharing the drier sections with the alders and the rhododendron were many small Juneberry trees, their branches blue-black with the dead ripe fruits. These make delicious eating, especially when the going is hot and humid. I don't get too many chances to stake up on these juicy fellows and I made the most of this golden opportunity.

Always there is the chance of meeting up with a rare orchid in this bog trotting business. One such discovery makes the whole soggy adventure worth while. You flounder through the deeper spots, suddenly plunging one foot halfway down to China, watching carefully for poison sumac the while a deer fly saws a neat chunk out of the back of your neck. Even your eye glasses get all steamed up over the extra exertion.

I was in just such a situation in that high country bog. The deer flies had set up a blood bank on my neck and the fickle swamp had lured me into some missteps which had plastered me almost to the knees with the sour-smelling muck. I plunged ahead, aiming for some high and dry tussocks when the rarely beautiful little rose pogonia shoved a lone flower up through the sedge at my feet.

Here was part of the answer to the countryman's love of the way-side trails. Perhaps next week an even rarer wildling will come out of hiding. Who knows?

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By FR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

CHILDREN LIKE BEING CONSIDERATE

Children like to be considerate! If for no other reason, it makes them feel grown-up and important. Sally and Jean were under twelve. One morning while mother was busy preparing their school lunches they slipped into their parents' bedroom, made the bed and straightened things up generally. On other occasions, too, they've gone out of their way to do little things which were not expected of them. And, while they're no angels, and often fail to help when their parents want them to, the girls enjoy doing things for other members of the family.

There's no particular secret that explains Sally's and Jean's behavior. Almost any child, under the right circumstances, will do the same thing. If, when these acts of consideration occur, mother or father express their appreciation and, if the same kind of consideration is shown by parents to youngsters, it will become more and more thoughtful. If, however, there is constant harping on the fact that they are not considerate, a good deal of resistance is almost sure to develop.

TEACHER M. D.

The teacher has Butch in charge for about six hours every day. She watches him and compares him with umpteen other kids. She may notice a little something wrong. She keeps her eye on Butch. In a few days she is sure about it. She may have a little talk with him without him catching on very much.

Sometimes she doctors him too, without him or anybody else knowing about it. Maybe he gets better, maybe not. She may have a little chat with the school doctor or with Mom. She may not have a degree but she knows a few things just the same.

Philadelphia May Bar Iron Curtain Nations From Port

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The port of Philadelphia indicated today it will bar all "iron curtain" vessels from unloading at Quaker City as part of "a general precautionary policy to guard the harbor."

Collector of the Port Michael J. Bradley announced the port's policy in commenting upon the reason for refusing permission to the Finnish freighter, Hamina, to dock at a Philadelphia pier to unload a cargo of woodpulp.

The Hamina was ordered to unload at an anchorage at Bombay Hook Point, 55 miles down the Delaware river.

Bradley said the Finnish vessel was searched for 18 hours by nine customs men and several immigration officers under the government's recent "Trojan Horse" order to check all ships from Russia and Soviet-satellite nations.

The order was issued as a safeguard against possible sabotage, including the smuggling of an atom bomb.

Bradley would not say whether the federal inspectors found anything suspicious aboard the Hamina.

Sen. Tobey Reveals Threats On Life

NASHUA, N. H., Aug. 9.—(INS)—U. S. Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R) N. H., told the Rotary club Tuesday that he has received threats against his life for his work on the Senate crime investigating committee.

Sen. Tobey termed the senders of the threats "cowards" for their failure to sign their names. The senator in reference to the work of his committee which probed syndicated racketeers said:

"Our job is to make a straight line in our investigation whether it leads to the president, a United States senator, a governor, a charwoman or taxi driver. It is a dangerous job. But nobody is going to stop us."

"We need a little of the old vigilante spirit to rid this country of some of the vermin. We need a revival of the qualities of simple honesty and integrity."

The American request for definite data from the Atlantic nations gave France an excellent opportunity to put the whole business "on the line", declare her own readiness to put another 200,000 men or so under arms and dig deep into her slender resources for the defense of democracy, humanity and civilization.

To an extent, she has called upon her neighbor nations to do likewise, not merely pledge and promise, but make contributions that are not concrete, sufficient and satisfactory.

France is not necessarily a disillusioned nation. At the moment, however, she can very well be considered an extremely cautious one.

GNCA Executive To Lecture At School

Jacob C. Wachtman, executive vice-president of the Greater New Castle Association, who recently resigned his post to accept a position in a larger field in the Wyoming valley, with headquarters at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., left last evening for New Haven, Conn., where he will give two lectures on Chamber of Commerce finance at the annual summer school for C. of C. executives, at Yale University.

Mr. Wachtman has attended these schools for the past five years, and this year, will be one of the lecturers, in addition to taking the course of advanced study in Chamber of Commerce methods.

The school is conducted for newcomers as well as those who have been in this line of work for years, enabling them to exchange ideas on techniques and improve their methods.

Investigators Probe GOP Expenditures In Luzerne County

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Two top U. S. justice department investigators were in Scranton Tuesday to intensify a federal probe of GOP primary campaign expenditures in Luzerne county.

Isaiah Matlack and Vincent Russo, special assistants to the U. S. attorney general, said they will be joined by George Gallagher, a third special assistant, later this week.

Justice department officials in Washington have announced that a special grand jury summoned last Wednesday by U. S. District Judge John W. Murphy will concentrate its activities on the Luzerne county investigation.

Chinese Communists Reported Moving Toward Tibet Border

HONG KONG, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Unconfirmed Chinese reports reaching Hong Kong said that Communist forces have begun advancing toward the frontier of Tibet by two routes.

One column of 20,000 strong was reported moving westward through Sikang Province and the second, numbering 40,000, was said to be pressing southward from Sining, capital of Chinghai Province.

The objective of both columns was believed to be Jyekundo, near the Tibetan border in southwest Chinghai.

State Air Defense Plans Under Way

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Plans are under way to protect Pennsylvanians from air attack by a potential enemy, Gov. James H. Duff assured an audience at the Lycoming county fair.

"We began getting our civil defense plans in shape as early as last March, long before the Korean situation developed," he said, adding that Pennsylvania would be a key target in the event of war.

MARTINS CELEBRATE SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Martin, Mt. Jackson road, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Saturday by entertaining some 125 relatives and friends at an open house in their home.

In the center of the table was a four-tier wedding cake with silver letters and a miniature bride and groom on top. Flanking the cake were double candelabra with white candles.

Many beautiful gifts of glass and silver were received by the couple who were also serenaded during the evening by some of the members of the Perry S. Gaston Post 343 of which Mr. Martin is director.

Mrs. W. Thayer Martin and Mrs. Thomas Martin, sisters-in-law of the couple, poured coffee during the evening.

The couple's daughter, Mrs. Robert James from Huntington, W. Va., and son, Joseph Martin, Jr., from Eagle, came home for the occasion. Special guest was Mrs. James Marsh, Washington, D. C., who was a college roommate of Mrs. Martin.

A dinner was held at the home of the honored couple, after which in the evening, a reception was held at St. Lucy's church in Hillville. A large crowd was in attendance, and music was provided by a well-known orchestra. The honored guests were the recipients of many gifts, some of which were silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Messina are the parents of six children, including Mrs. Russell Lansdowne of California, and James, Jean, Richard, Shirley and Betty, all at home.

FFA Leaders Will Gather

Chapter Officers Will Get Training

Chapter officers from 20 F.F.A. chapters in the five counties of Lawrence, Butler, Beaver, Mercer, and Venango counties, will gather in Slippery Rock, Friday, August 11, for a leadership training conference, it was announced today by James C. Fink, vocational agricultural supervisor for the local area. There will be seven officers present from each chapter.

Registration will start at 9 o'clock in the high school library with officers of the Slippery Rock and West Sunbury chapters in charge.

Day Long Program
The program will get underway promptly at 9:30 o'clock, with a discussion of "What is the chapter program of work," when the chapter's obligations will be outlined.

Between 10:30 and 11 o'clock, photographs will be taken and there will be a period of recreation. At 11 o'clock, the subject for discussion will be "What is your job?" James C. Fink will outline the duties of the reporters and other adult supervisors will handle the different offices, with Howard F. Fox, of East Brook handling the Sentinels.

Lunch will be served in the college dining room at noon, after which the program will resume at one o'clock, with a discussion on what makes chapter meetings interesting. There will be a short recess at 2 o'clock, resuming at 2:16 with discussion of good chapter procedure. Mr. Fink will handle the president's chair; J. W. Laughner, of North Beaver, the secretaries; Jacob Bumgardner, of New Wilmington, the treasurers; and Howard Fox, of East Brook, the reporters.

To Get Degrees
There will be a period of recreation from 3:15 until 5:15, when there will ensue the banquet at 5:30 o'clock in the main dining room of the college. Among the speakers will be past state president Allen Clause, of New Enterprise, Pa.; and the new state president, Carl Chess, of Sandy Lake. The County Farmer degree will be conferred on a class of 55 youths, including the following from Lawrence county, at the banquet program:

Bob Shumaker, New Wilmington; Clifford Gwin, David Mack, John Kusnierczyk, William Emery, and Lee McAnis, Mt. Jackson; and Robert E. Smith, J. Keith McConnell, Thomas Jones, and Howard Schooley, of East Brook.

May Check Scranton's G.I. Training School

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Two U. S. Justice department investigators remained mum today on the possibility that their activities might include a check into G. I. training school operations in Scranton.

Joseph Matlack and Vincent R. Russo, special assistants to the U. S. attorney general, arrived at Scranton two days ago to investigate GOP primary campaign expenses in Luzerne county.

They refused to answer questions applying either to the campaign funds investigation or the training schools.

A federal grand jury summoned by U. S. District Judge John W. Murphy will meet next week to hear testimony by the "ts."

"Any and all matters that come to our attention will be presented to a grand jury. This is as far as publicity goes until such time as that grand jury makes its official and public report," said Matlack.

Many Books To Be Made Into Pictures

Many readers are urged to read a book by finding that it has been or will be made into a picture. For them the public library has compiled the following list of books which have been or are in process of being filmed:

Lorna Doone, R. D. Blackmore.

The Mudlark, T. Bonnet.

An American Tragedy (picture called "A Place in the Sun"), T. Dreiser.

Captain Horatio, Hornblower, C. S. Forester.

Shep of the Painted Hills, Alexander Hull.

Kim, Rudyard Kipling.

The Brave Bulls, Tom Lea.

Quo Vadis, H. Sienkiewicz.

Food Price Hike Not Likely Now

May Rise 4 Per Cent Above Current Level

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The Agriculture department said Tuesday that retail food prices "are not likely" to rise more than three to four per cent above the current level during the remainder of 1950.

Farm officials based this statement on present estimates of food supplies and consumer demand. Supplies are plentiful and demand strong. They think that the Korean war will tend to strengthen the public's demand for food as the accelerated defense program raises incomes. But there is plenty for everyone, they point out.

Even with partial mobilization the experts declare that military purchases are not expected to have a substantial effect on the overall demand for food this year.

Food Stock High

Department reports indicate that food stocks which can be stored are fairly high. In addition, U. S. exports of food thus far this year have been and are expected to continue smaller than during the past few years.

On the basis of these supply estimates, civilian consumption per person this year is expected by the agency to average 11 percent higher than for 1935-39 and somewhat above the 1941 rate—the record year before World War II.

Explaining the percentage price rise expected, officials say that the spiral buying and price hikes since the Korean conflict are similar to those occurring in 1939 after war began in Europe.

In that year, the buying slowed down and prices dropped as soon as the public realized that food supplies were adequate. The department adds that present food supplies in general are large enough that there is no prospect of shortages in coming months.

Consumption Higher

Compared with 1941, food consumption for every person may average slightly higher, officials think, because of minor increases for dairy products and food fats and oils other than butter. They see substantial increases in the consumption of poultry and eggs, canned and frozen fruit juices, and frozen fruits and vegetables.

How much each American consumes is still somewhat lower than at the end of the last war, chiefly because of drops in the consumption of fluid milk and cream, ice cream, meats, and fresh and processed fruits and vegetables.

With feed supplies plentiful, however, the department says that hogs could be fed to heavier weights than those at which they have been marketed in the past year and the production of grain-fed beef increased.

Likewise, larger supplies of fluid milk could be marketed if the consumer demand rises by diverting milk from the manufacture of dairy products that are in surplus.

Moreover, the production of some canned fruits and vegetables could be accelerated further to meet stronger demand.

A NOISY BUSSER

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Aug. 9.—Perth Amboy who wakes up the whole neighborhood when he howls his girl goodnight. Here's how:

Doorbells began ringing in 12 apartments in one building in the wee hours of the morning waking up the residents. One, more excited than the rest, called the police.

Sirens screaming, a squad car roared up to the building. In the lobby the police found a young man fervently kissing his girl goodnight. He had her backed against the bell buttons.

DOLL TOO LIFE-LIKE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Police received a telephoned report that a baby in a basket had been abandoned at a North Broadway address. Safety Director C. V. Christensen, and Capt. Raymond Siler sped to the scene. They found that the "baby" was a mechanical doll from a florist's window.

THE BRIDAL CARS

Question: In what cars do the bridesmaids ride to the church? How about the bride's mother and father?

Answer: The bride goes to the church with her father. The bride's mother leaves the house first, alone, or if she wishes she may take one or two of the bridesmaids in her car. The maid-of-honor, the remainder of the bridesmaids and the flower girls follow closely behind in either their own cars or those supplied by the bride's family. The mother's car must have room reserved for the bride's father who will return in it. The bride's car arrives last of the procession and stands at the church door until she and the groom return to it after the ceremony to drive back to the house.

for the breakfast or reception. Question: My daughter will be married soon. Must I have the groom's parents stay at my home overnight? They live in a distant city. Also, should they write or should I write to them now that the wedding is approaching?

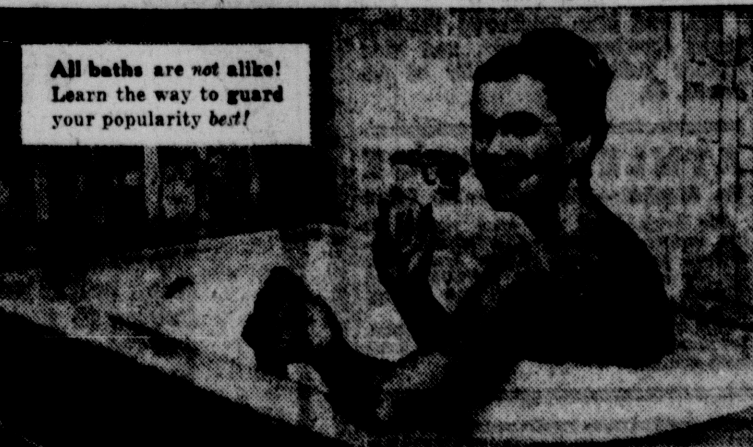

Answer: Yes, you should invite them to stay overnight at your home. Write and extend to them a very cordial invitation. And include them in all parties given, during their stay, for the bride-elect.

Question: At a wedding when I go down the aisle with the usher should I take his arm or merely walk beside him?

Answer: Take his arm. Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

ABOUT FACE PINE GROVE, Ore.—Fisherman Jim Akers caught a glimpse of something out of the corner of his eye at Rock Creek Reservoir during a fishing trip. The "something" was a black bear. In an instant, Akers was back in camp, but the other fishing party members wouldn't believe his story until they were shown tracks, Akers' and the bear's. The tracks led in opposite directions.

PAIN KILLER

SOUTH American Incas were the first to discover that by chewing coca leaves, they could go for long periods without food and drink. In 1884, Carl Koller learned why this was possible. Concluding that coca leaves deadened the hunger pangs of these Indians, Koller wondered whether a cocaine solution could be used to kill pain in eye surgery. Applying a cocaine solution to the eyes of frogs and guinea pigs, Koller successfully killed the sensitivity. Since then cocaine has been used to produce anaesthesia of the eyes, ears and throat in modern surgery.

Pain is nature's way of telling you that something is wrong physically. If pain is acute or persists, see your family doctor, then let us accurately fill his prescription. Banishing pain is gratifying business for your doctor and for us.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

YOU can see this man has made his mark in life, and while his heart's still young.

You can tell he likes action for his money—that he knows a fine car needs't be the most expensive to give the greatest value.

Yes, such are the things you know of any man, when you note that his car is a ROADMASTER.

Follow him on his spirited way as he pilots this lively motorcar through traffic. Even the lightweights are no match for this road-steady husky—not with the 152-horsepower straight-eight Fireball engine that purrs beneath its bonnet.

Maneuver beside him at the next stop light. Then just try to get away as smoothly, swiftly and silently as Dynaflo Drive gets his ROADMASTER going—and keeps it rolling without shifting, even automatically.

But don't waste time merely envying the man in this great car! Why not own him?

With all its outside room, interior luxury and exterior grace—with all its front-rank prestige, rare performance and matchless ride—a ROADMASTER can be yours for less than some smaller cars cost.

In fact, even if you had a fortune to spend, you couldn't make a more fortunate buy in the fine-car field.

So we suggest you try a few minutes behind the wheel. We're confident they will convince you that ROADMASTER has everything you could ever ask for in any motorcar—although your Buick dealer asks a good bit less for ROADMASTER than you might pay for other top-line cars.

Rev. T. J. Jones Home, Is Improving Slowly

Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of First Congregational church is back home on East Reynolds street after a six week's stay in Jameson Memorial hospital. He is still confined to his room but is improving slowly.

Today Rev. Jones asked the News to express his appreciation for the cards and flowers received by him in the hospital.

"It was overwhelming," said he. Over 1000 cards were sent me from men and women of all faiths. Bouquets came from many organizations and individuals and altogether it left me breathless. It is impossible to answer every one in person and I am wondering if all my good friends would take my thank you in the News as a personal expression? If they will, I want them all to know how deeply I appreciate their kindness."

Violence Feared
In Jersey Gas War

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Violence and "possibly murder" were predicted Tuesday in New Jersey's statewide gasoline-price war.

Many retailers closed their stations today and others planned to follow suit tomorrow.

"Smashed and broken service station windows, broken noses and possibly murder might result," warned F. Kenneth Schultze, of Verona, N. J., an American Automobile Association representative.

Retailers predicted that approximately 3,000 service stations will be closed by tomorrow, when the 8-day "protest shutdown" officially starts.

A spot check of stations in Bergen county early today showed that about 50 per cent of the stations had already shut down.

Motorcades of operators formed in Bergen and Passaic counties, where the price-war originated, and headed toward Trenton bearing placards reading "Busted" and "20.9."

The "busted" signs referred to financial losses resulting from the price war. The "20.9" placards referred to the current low gasoline prices.

Emergency Powers Asked For National Defense

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—President Truman asked Congress Tuesday for emergency powers to defend the nation against Communist saboteurs, spies and subversives "in this period of increasing international difficulty and danger."

The chief executive sent a special message to Capitol Hill calling for the tightening up in peacetime of laws governing espionage, registration of foreign agents, and security of national defense installations.

Asks Congress

The president asked for congressional action at the present session of Congress.

Mr. Truman recommended:

1. Tightening up of present laws on espionage, registration of foreign agents, security of national defense installations, extension of the statute of limitations beyond the present three years for peacetime espionage, and by giving broader authority to the president to establish security regulations over military bases and other defense installations.

2. Registration of persons who have received instructions from a foreign government or political party in espionage or subversive tactics.

3. Greater authority for the attorney general to exercise supervision over aliens subject to deportation and to require them, under the sanction of criminal penalties, to report their whereabouts and activities at regular intervals.

At the same time, the President lashed out at the Mundt-Nixon bill stating that its provisions "would be repugnant to our traditions and should not be authorized."

Detention Bill

The President struck at a provision in that bill that would permit detention of aliens for indefinite periods of time, not because of a conviction for crime, but on a basis of governmental determination.

Mr. Truman said that the nation must "be on guard against extremists who urge us to adopt police state measures."

The chief executive said that the legislation now pending in Congress is "so broad and vague in its terms as to endanger the freedom of speech, press and assembly protected by the first amendment."

He said:

"The present period is one of the times in which it has been necessary to adjust our security measures to new circumstances. The particular danger which we have had to meet has been created by the rise of totalitarianism—first the totalitarianism of the right, and now that of the left."

"Today, we face most acutely the threat of the Communist movement, international in scope, directed from a central source, and committed to the overthrow of democratic institutions throughout the world."

Other Nations

"The major danger from the Communist movement lies in its use of armed force and the threat of aggression through which it is trying to establish its control over free nations. To meet this danger, we are working vigorously with other free nations to build a strong and effective common defense."

"Communist imperialism also seeks to weaken and overthrow free nations by working within their borders."

"Through their own political parties, and by trying to make alliances with non-Communist political groups, the Communists attempt to gain political power. The best defense against this aspect of the Communist threat is a vigorous, functioning democracy which succeeds in meeting the needs of its people."

American Legion band of New Castle receives a last minute briefing from William Alexander, chairman of the band committee (extreme right), before leaving this morning for Philadelphia where they will attend the State Convention of the American Legion. To the left of Mr. Alexander are Richard Montgomery, band manager and Joseph Martin, band director.

Shown above are members of the crack American Legion Band, of Perry S. Gaston Post, as they boarded the bus in front of the Legion Home on North Jefferson street this morning, for a five-day holiday in Philadelphia. The crack local band, which is under the direction of Joe Martin, of Bessemer, has won many competitive contests this summer against some of the best bands in the district, and hopes to bring home first place honors for Legion bands in the competition which will be staged on Saturday, in connection with the big parade concluding the state convention. They will also participate in the 40 and 8 parade tomorrow. The band members will return home by bus, leaving Philadelphia Sunday morning.

GRIM GOING BUT SHE MADE IT

—Acme Telephoto

DOVER, ENGLAND—Florence Chadwick, 31 year old San Diego, Calif., secretary, gave the victory sign after she swam the English Channel in 13 hours and 23 minutes for a new women's record. She said that the strong currents almost caused her to give up but that she somehow managed to keep going until she reached the Dover Coast.

(Florence Chadwick, 31-year-old ex-olympic swimmer from San Diego, Cal., tells in the following article how she felt yesterday while setting a new women's record in crossing the English Channel.)

By FLORENCE CHADWICK
(Written Especially for I. N. S.)

WISSANT, FRANCE, Aug. 9 — (INS)—Sometimes I felt I never would make it!

But somehow my evil spirits were not around!

Although I often was terribly weak, I was frightened only once, near the middle of the crossing. I touched a jelly fish!

But actually it was nothing compared to the experience I had in Saudi Arabia, where I met strange animals daily on my training swims.

The last three miles of the swim were the hardest.

About 22 Miles

(It was estimated Miss Chadwick covered about 22 miles from Cap Gris Nez, France, to St. Margaret's Bay, England.)

After 13 hours and 20 minutes in the water, when I first set foot on the shore the feeling I experienced was simply, "well I made it."

I don't know whether it was more a feeling of happiness at having broken the record or relief over having the whole thing behind my back.

I didn't feel sick the whole time across and from the very beginning I thought I was going to break Gertrude Ederle's record of 14 hours and 34 minutes.

I had hoped to smash the record by crossing in 12 hours or less, but the tide got the better of me at the end.

The first seven hours were fairly easy but after that I began to get a little tired.

Later as I drifted down the coast with the shore so near, I began to get terribly cold.

Those last few hours were pretty grim. It was hard work once we got near the coast and into that ebb tide.

Now for a little rest... a little sightseeing in France and England... and—home. It will look good!

Says Crude Oil Supply Dwindles

ST. MARY'S, O.—(INS)—An engineering expert contends today that at the present rate of consumption the United States has only about 11 years' supply of crude oil.

Dr. Richard J. Lund, chief of research engineering economics of Battell Memorial Institute in Columbus, told the Southeastern Ohio regional council that the total fuel energy used in the country has almost doubled from the period of 1920 to 1948.

Coal consumption, he said, has dropped from 78 per cent to 47 per cent in that period while oil consumption has increased 15 to 35 per cent and gas from 4 to 14 per cent.

Lund said there are larger coal reserves than any other fuel. He said there are recoverable coal deposits to last 300 years but contended that unless additional oil is imported, the present reserve will be exhausted in the next 11 years.

Dr. Lund said the gas supply is good for 30 years at the present rate of consumption.

ENOUGH FOR HER

VALDOSTA, Ga.—After seeing her first movie, a 75-year-old woman here thinks she can get along just as well without them. Mrs. Anna Kelley saw a double feature, a western and a picture starring Esther Williams. "On the whole, I don't care too much for movies," she said.

SHEDS GLASSES AT 90

OSAGE, Ia.—John Thompson, 90, threw away his glasses. Thompson, a resident of a convalescent home, said his sight has improved so much recently that he no longer needs glasses.

A flounder of two ounces weight may contain about 140,000 spawn.

Joe Stalin says that if we will permit the Chinese Red government to get into the United Nations he will call off the war in Korea. For how long?

If you think women can't take a joke, you should meet some of their husbands when they're at a party.

'Civilized' War Sought In Korea

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 9 (INS)—The United Nations Korean Commission urged the Security Council Tuesday to ask Russia to prevail on the North Koreans to halt "uncivilized and inhuman" practices of warfare.

The commission, declaring in a cable to U. N. headquarters that the North Koreans have failed to give assurances they will respect rules of civilized warfare, called for a world-wide protest against the Communists' refusal to cooperate with the International Red Cross.

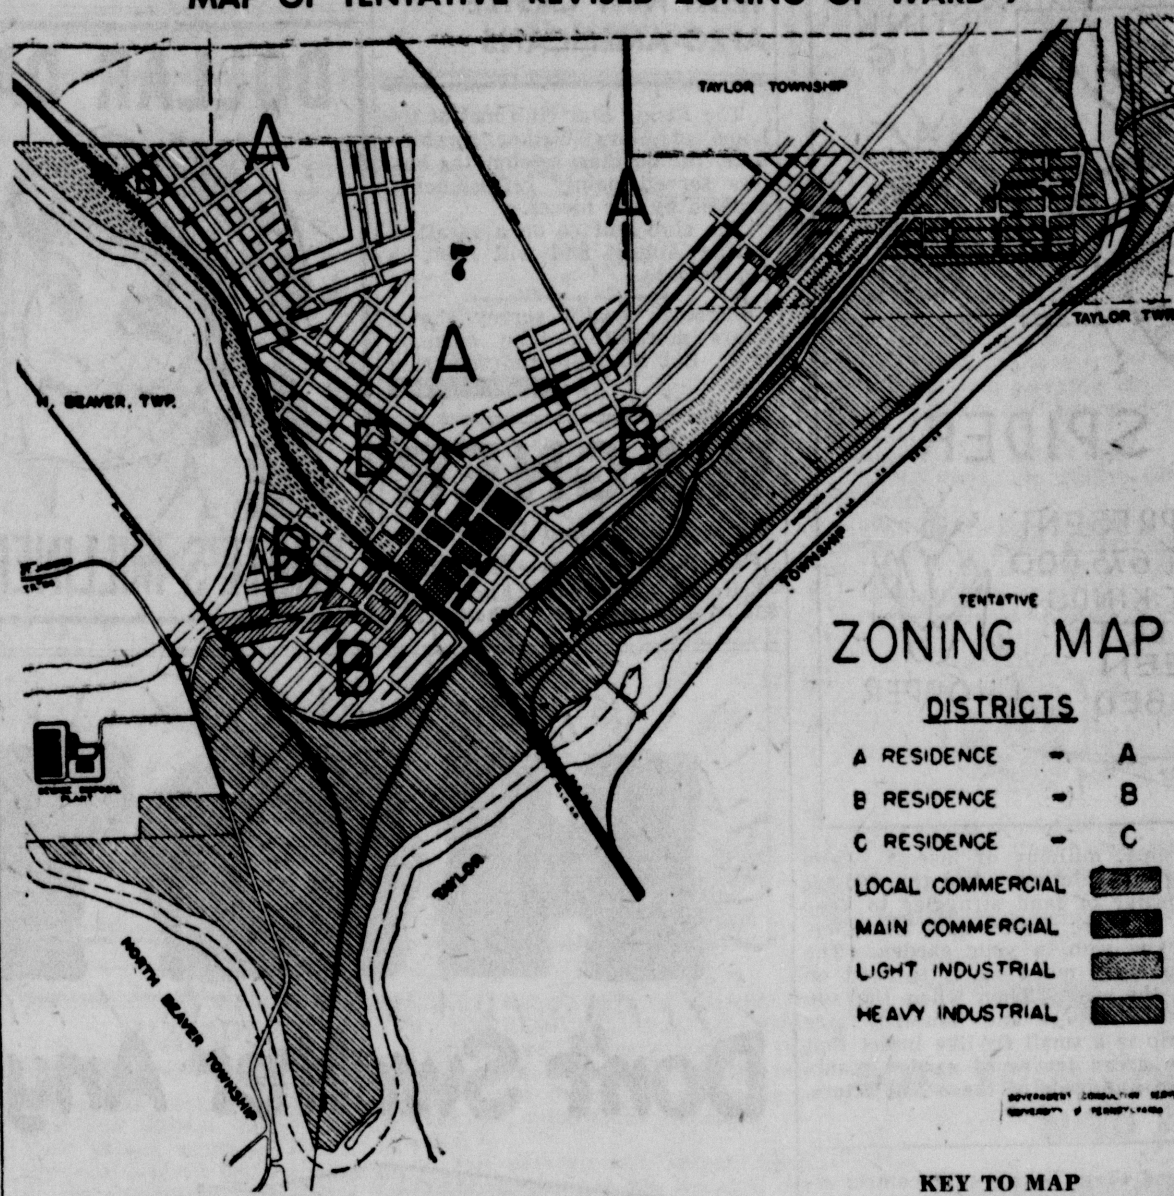

The commission's report was received shortly after Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik presented a communication from Pyongyang alleging that the U. S. Air Force had engaged in indiscriminate bombings of North Korean towns and communities.

Shirley May Has Made Last Channel Attempt

SOMERSET, Mass., Aug. 8 (INS)—The father of Shirley May France today declared that his daughter's second failure to swim the English Channel was her final bid.

"It just wasn't in the cards for her to make the crossing," he said. "Never again. She'll be 18 Friday and she hoped to make it before her birthday."

State To Attempt Mass Blood Typing

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8 (INS)—State Civilian Defense officials today approved plans to record the blood type of every resident of Pennsylvania to enable prompt action if a war emergency should require transfusions on a wholesale scale.

Col. Lewis F. Acker, State Defense Director, said the Pennsylvania Medical Society will carry out the program with the assistance of the State Nursing Association, the Red Cross and Commonwealth agencies.

Mass blood typing will get under way in schools by October 1, a medical society spokesman reported, and parents will be urged to have their blood typed at the same time as the school children. The program will be extended into industries and businesses, the spokesman said. An identification card will be issued to each person whose type is recorded.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9 (INS)—The State on Tuesday awarded to the National City Bank of New York, heading a syndicate of 44 banks and investment houses, a $65,000,000 bond issue to complete financing of the World War II veterans bonus.

The national city syndicate, best of three bidders, offered a premium of $357,500 above the par value of the bonds.

The first Boston corporation of

New York offered a premium of $305,435. The third bid by the First National Bank of Chicago and associates offered a premium of $130,000.

All three bids are on a basis of 1.45 per cent interest rate on the issue which will mature in equal sums of $32,500,000 in 1966 and 1967.

The issue today brings the total amount of bonds for bonus financing to $440,000,000.

State budget director Edward B. Logan estimated the overall bonus bond debt service to the commonwealth will be $76,000,000 a biennium through 1967.

Initial issue of $375,000,000 was sold at an interest rate of 1.4775 per cent to a syndicate of 400 banks and investment houses on February 16.

Girl Seized In Seventh Ward

Police Arrest Suspect Two Hours Later

Enroute home, shortly after midnight from a motion picture show, a Mahoningtown girl was the victim of an unsuccessful attempt at criminal assault. A suspect is under arrest.

According to Policemen Tewell and Russo, who made the arrest, and Lieutenant Thompson and Patrolman Llewellyn, the girl telephoned at 12:20 a. m. that she had been attacked.

They investigated and learned she had arrived at Newell and Madison avenues, where there are high weeds, when a man whose face was covered by a white cloth seized her by the throat from behind.

She was wrestled to the ground amongst weeds when the man exclaimed:

"If you scream, I will kill you." The man allegedly attempted to commit an assault while the young woman prayed aloud.

Frightened Away
Before the criminal assault could be carried out, a man was heard walking in the vicinity of the PRR tracks.

Becoming frightened, the assailant fled and the girl ran to her home and telephoned police.

During the investigation Policemen Russo and Tewell saw a young man board a PRR train.

Russo also boarded the train. The man leaped from the train some distance above the South Cherry street crossing.

Police continued their investigation, later taking into custody a young man in a Liberty street restaurant.

When searched a napkin was found on his person.

The girl told police she did not see the man's face, because it was covered with something that looked like a handkerchief. However, she said his voice sounded like that of the man who attacked and threatened to kill her. She said the description fitted him.

Chief of detectives Willis McMullen placed the youth in custody of Juvenile Officer Charles Ross because the suspect is only 17 years old.

The youth denies he is the man who assailed the girl.

Police Recover Stolen Articles

Darlington Youth Is Under Arrest

Robert J. Milliron, Darlington youth, was arrested at 11:20 p. m. Tuesday by Lieut. Rigby, Sgt. Wallace and cruiser operator Reese on a charge of larceny sworn to by Wallace before Alderman J. C. Brice. A number of articles which were allegedly stolen from cars, including that of Wallace were found in his home.

Milliron claims he bought the articles "from a man in Washington street."

Wallace charged him with larceny from his car of a carburetor kit, bathing suits, bath towels and a flashlight. The theft occurred August 3 while Wallace's car was parked at his 906 Wilmington avenue residence.

Included in articles recovered at the Milliron home were an electric drill, blankets, a guitar and sun glasses.

OWEN PENFIELD OX

From now until killing frosts come, millions of insects swarm across the land, destroying gardens and vegetation. And the damage done is beyond conception. Every owner of land struggles to keep the pests in check. If you are one of these discouraged landmen, do not disturb the garden spider or its web in your garden. The spider spins its web at night and in early morn starts to feed on the night insects that are caught in the web. Then when the sun warms up, houseflies, stink bugs, leaf hoppers and houseflies are trapped in the silky strands. The trip is a small fly-like insect that causes gray patches to appear on the green leaves of garden plants and the morning spider's web will trap hundreds of these bad actors, all of which are devoured by the spider.

The older a star becomes, say astronomers, the faster it travels. That's probably true—we've noticed those lickety-split comets always have long and luxurious beards.

Conservationists Interested In All Natural Resources

HARRISBURG.—(INS)—Pennsylvania, one of the first states in the nation to intensify forestry research, has long been active in the field of searching out the complexities of nature.

In an editorial entitled "research," in the current issue of the magazine "Pennsylvania Forests and Waters," secretary M. F. Draemel pointed out that while a division of research is assigned to the bureau of forests the scientists employed are actually devoted to the overall picture concerned with the "Conservation of Natural Resources."

"Our people are becoming ever more aware that we cannot continue to waste our natural resources as we have done for generations in the past, and they have increased demands for various types of conservation, such as soil conservation, forest conservation, water conservation, and wildlife conservation," he said.

"But the commonwealth's government recognized this great need for conservation, years ago. The public, meanwhile, has but recently taken hold of the words 'resource' and 'conservation' and adopted them in a single phrase conservation of resources."

"Many persons have now entered the field of resource-conservation, but few realize the tremendous responsibility of the government's sphere of activity in this effort to provide for the future," Draemel asserted.

Draemel said "the division of research takes into its scope of studies not only the diseases of trees, the methods of combating forest fires, development of tree plantations and forests, development and protection of watersheds and provisions for wildlife preservation and development, but the relationship of clean and unpolluted waters, and the expansion of recreational areas for the general public."

"From these studies the research scientists are able to inform not only other interested parties of the trend of the use, or the misuse of our natural resources, but they can recommend the corrective measures the individual, or the government, should take at the moment or in the immediate future," he asserted.

"Right now on our own continent we have the ruin of a once great Mayan civilization. A logical reason for the disappearance of that civilization is that it ruined its water supply," the forests and waters secretary said. "We can believe they depleted their surrounding forests and dumped their wastes into their streams, not realizing that the forests were the protection and the purifier of the waters upon which they had to depend for their existence as a civilized nation."

Judge And Defendant Go For Short Trials

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—George L. Turner, currently, and usually of the District of Columbia jail, is a great believer in brevity.

He was serving 30 days in jail on a drunk charge when Detective Richard Mower took him into Judge Armand Scott's presence yesterday on charges of "stealing a wrist watch and ring from a fellow citizen, and pawing the ring for five dollars and getting drunk, and . . ."

Turner cut in at this point: "Never mind, I'm guilty. Get it over with."

Judge Scott interjected a few words at this point to make the trial one of the shortest on record: "120 days," he said.

County Photo Group Plans Trip To Erie

The Lawrence County Photo Society met Friday, August 4, at Jones' studio. Business was transacted as usual with a double purpose program slated for August 18 at 7:30 p. m. A trip to Lake Erie will be discussed and arrangements made for the trip at this time. All members are requested to be prompt because of the extensive program.

The feature of the evening was the photographing of shapely model Barbara Hamilton. The members also drew assignments for the same evening such as taking a picture of the police sergeant at his desk, a policeman making an arrest, and a nurse saying good-night to one of the members.

Herb Jones and the committee closed the meeting by serving refreshments.

Margiotti Still Fighting In Pittsburgh Court Case

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9.—(INS)—State Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti is a persistent man. He is trying to supersede Allegheny County District Attorney William S. Rahauer who currently is conducting a grand jury investigation into charges that Pittsburgh office holders misused city labor and materials.

Yesterday Margiotti told news-men he has had State Police investigating possible graft and bribery in the city administration but refused to disclose any details.

Chief Justice James E. Drew of the state supreme court is expected to rule soon on Margiotti's plea for a stay in the current grand jury investigation and special convocation of the court to hear his appeal for supersede.

Lattimore Urges: Seat Red China

PETERBOROUGH, N. H., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Owen Lattimore believes today the Communist China delegation should be seated in the United Nations.

Lattimore, recently cleared by a Senate investigating committee of a charge that he was a Communist agent, spoke before the school of advanced international studies in Peterborough.

He urged that the United States accept the suggestion of Prime Minister Nehru of India that the Chinese Communist government be represented in the U. N. in an effort to end the Korean war.

Lattimore declared: "We must remember that we can't hold the line against communism without Asiatic allies."

House Rescinds Contempt Charge

By SAM FOGG
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The House Un-American Activities Committee voted Tuesday to rescind congressional contempt proceedings against an ex-Communist who recanted and gave them full information of his activities.

The committee by unanimous vote cleared David H. Levison who admitted in a public session that he was acting secretary of the Communist party in Cincinnati in 1941.

Levison, an official of a paint firm, testified freely in contrast to his appearance last month when he refused to answer questions on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

He asked for the second chance to testify after the committee cited him for contempt of Congress.

which carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail and an $1,000 fine.

The Cincinnati man who broke with the party in 1942 after seven years as a member, was one of 59 defiant witnesses cited by the House group.

Before leaving the stand, the witness told the House members: "I deeply and sincerely regret some of the things I have done in the past and I am sorry I took the position in July of refusing to answer questions. I believe the committee has been very fair with me in its approach to the whole subject."

Officers Claim Reds Threatened Often In Korea

By ROSE McKEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Two American army officers testified Tuesday that there were so many false alarms of a Communist invasion of Korea that the real attack looked like just another feint.

Brig. Gen. W. L. Roberts, the American who trained the South Korean army, and Col. William H. S. Wright, his chief of staff, who has just returned from the war, drew this picture for the Senate armed services committee at a closed hearing.

Roberts later told newsmen that North Korean Reds periodically made raids south of the 38th parallel. He said at one time there were as many as 130 raids a month involving from two thousand to three thousand Reds.

But in the last two months before the Communists struck in force, Roberts continued, the raids dwindled to 20 or 30.

Wright, who was at the war front with South Korean until July 27, told newsmen that the anti-Communist Koreans have "no trouble telling a North Korean and shoot every one they see."

Wright described the South Koreans as "darned good soldiers—tough and enduring." He said: "They have no requirements above arms and ammunition. They have that now."

FEEDER GAS LINE BEING LAID

Excavation of the pipeline from near Bessemer to New Castle has started. An eight inch line connecting to the 36 inch Texas-New York line will feed a steady supply of gas into the New Castle district to maintain a high gas level here. The junction of the two lines is on the Holmes McClelland farm on the Hillville-Mt. Jackson road. In the top photo can be seen the 41 inch deep ditch as it crosses the H. L. Reed farm near the junction. In the lower photo, Mr. Reed talks to a neighbor as they watch the digger ditching through their land. The digger cuts a furrow about 41 inches deep, and 14 inches wide. Cigarette Smuggling Costs Couple Plenty PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9.—(INS)—A Pittsburgh alderman today could claim to have levied the biggest fine in Pennsylvania for possession and transportation of contraband.

He is Joseph Rigby who yesterday fined Phillip and Blanche Finkelstein $6,675—at the rate of $25, plus costs, for each carton of cigarettes which Finkelstein and his wife are accused of bringing from Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Under Rigby's ruling, the couple must still face a criminal court trial on liquor charges and Mrs. Finkelstein must answer in court to charges she attempted to bribe State Department of Revenue agents who arrested her.

State agents confiscated three of Finkelstein's automobiles which they said contained 40 cases of high-priced scotch and bourbon and 200 cartons of cigarettes.

Finkelstein, reportedly a meat packer, and his wife will appeal the fine.

Clement Is Lion Speaker

Insurance Man Tells Of War Experiences

W. Roscoe Clement, local insurance man, told fellow Lions Club members of his experiences in Korea during the last war, and of the country and its customs, when he addressed them at their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon.

Mr. Clement was with the 55th Military Government organization, which entered Korea after the close of hostilities in the late war. Korea, he stated, is a country of 31,000,000 people, two-thirds of whom live below the 38th parallel, the dividing line between North and South Korea.

The country there is quite rugged, and mostly barren. He saw few trees or shrubbery in the districts in which he visited, he said. The people reside in the cities and towns for the most part, walking out into the rural areas to farm their ground.

The towns are densely populated, great numbers of people living in small homes. The houses are made of adobe with thatched roofs for the most part, he explained. In one instance, he recalls seeing three adults and a child living in an old piano box.

Every inch of land fit for cultivation is needed to sustain the population, which lives simply on rice and fish, although a great variety of vegetables and fruits are raised.

His explanation of Korean customs and their way of living was most interesting. He showed a number of photographs which he took while in Korea, and some articles which he had brought back with him.

Visitors at yesterday's meeting included: C. S. Meyer, of Pittsburgh; John Douglas, of Pittsburgh; and Paul L. Varnum, of Dormont.

COMPOST PILES AID TO GARDEN

Compost piles, which can be built largely of waste materials, provided a good source of humus for the garden. Humus helps the soil hold more moisture and makes it easier to work.

Suitable materials for the compost pile include grass clippings, leaves, weeds, discarded plant remains from the garden if they are not diseased, sod, soil, sawdust and animal manures.

Locate the compost pile where it is screened by a building, or some plant growth. As the materials become available put them in layers on the ground, keeping the tops of the pile lower in the middle than the sides to catch and hold rainwater.

From time to time apply a layer of animal manure and for each 6-inch thickness of compost spread one pint of garden fertilizer for each 50 square feet of compost. A handful of lime can be scattered over each layer to good effect. To add nitrogen, put on nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia.

Composts can be started at any time of the year, but the process of decay slows up in cold weather.

In dry spells add water to the pile. Mix the materials in the heap occasionally, and allow it to rot thoroughly before applying it to the garden.

PREVENT MILDEW BEFORE IT STARTS

Molds that cause mildew develop in muggy summer weather and flourish in damp, warm, poorly aired and dark rooms. They also grow in a newly built house because of moisture in the building materials.

First step in preventing mildew is to keep rooms, closets and basements well aired and as dry as possible. Always dry clothing before putting it away and never put damp soiled clothing in the hamper. Sun and air garments in the closet frequently. You can put a can of calcium chloride in closets to help remove moisture.

A simple mildew-resistant treatment for cotton fabrics, such as shower curtains, may be given at home. Soak articles in hot soap-suds; take out but do not rinse and put in a hot solution of cadmium chloride (1½ ounces cadmium chloride to one gallon water); stir and turn the fabric for 15 minutes. Wring and hang to dry on a twine clothesline; a wire line may stain the fabric. Do not treat wearing apparel in this manner as the chemical may irritate the skin. Cadmium chloride is poisonous so thoroughly wash utensils used.

To protect leather shoes from mildew, you can rub the uppers with a good wax dressing and apply a thin coat of floor wax to the soles. Sponge other leather goods with a one per cent solution of paranitro phenol. You buy this at the drug store.

AUGUST BUSY TIME FOR FLOWER GARDENS
Flower gardens which have good care reflect that touch in floral displays and general attractiveness, in August as at other times during the growing season. This also is a time for doing in the garden as well as one for enjoyment as indicated in these reminders.

Keep gladioli, fall-blooming delphiniums, dahlias and other tall-growing plants staked to prevent them from breaking off during high winds. Mulch dahlias with several inches of straw litter or hay. First cultivate them thoroughly. Watch garden plants at all times for disease and insect pests and provide the proper control measures. Calla lilies and amaryllis bulbs grown in pots indoors need a rest period. Turn the pots over on their sides, and do not apply water. Do not report bulbs of these types too frequently. Fresh lupine seed should be sown directly in the areas where they are to remain permanently.

Since the seed coats are hard it is advisable to crack the seed coat or cut it with a knife prior to seeding.

Most spring-blooming perennials can be divided now. Keep the younger growth and discard all old heavy-wooded stems. Remove flower heads of most flowers as soon as they have finished their bloom unless you plan to collect seed. The seeds of many species of herbaceous perennials can be sown in garden flats or a cold-frame if the work is done early this month.

How Hudson, with exclusive recessed floor, brings you the world's Best Ride

HUDSON

"Step-down" design, with its recessed floor, brings space between frame members, which is wasted in other cars, into Hudson's passenger compartment. This results in America's lowest center of gravity (and full road clearance) for a smoother, steadier, safer ride than is possible in any other car!

OTHER CARS

Floor is on top of the frame, so the vital space between frame members is not available for passenger use. This creates a higher center of gravity which results in less stability, less smoothness as you ride, particularly on curves, in cross winds and on rough roads.

YOU ARE especially invited to try a Hudson ride, to enjoy a new way of going not available elsewhere at any price!

Hudson's new way of building automobiles with exclusive recessed floor ("step-down" design) results in America's lowest center of gravity—which is the key to the steadiest road-bugging ride ever known!

Hudson's exclusive recessed floor also results in low-built, streamlined beauty. Right along with full road clearance, it brings you more head and seating room than in any other car!

And brilliant, high-compression engine performance, a traditional characteristic with Hudson, is another engineering triumph that makes riding in this great car the outstanding automotive experience of the year! Won't you try it soon?

The new, lower-priced Pacemaker brings you all of Hudson's great advantages for just a few dollars more than the Lowest-Priced Cord!

Hudsons, with recessed floors, their great array of high-quality, long-life features, and advanced design, are among the leaders in resale value, as shown by Official Used Car Guide Books!

Phils Pennant Bound With Five-Game Lead; Senators Win 17-3

Detroit Tigers Lead By Three

Ralph Kiner Hits His 30th Homer

By HOWARD SIGMUND (I. N. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Ask the pennant-bound Philadelphia Phillies for a definition on the word "cousin" today and most likely you'll get "Don Newcombe" for the answer.

The ballplayers' way of defining easy pickings is the apt description for the relationship between the Phils and the hulking fireballer of the Brooklyn Dodger mound staff.

Newcombe's latest shortcoming, his seventh against eleven wins, occurred last night when the whizzes whizzed by the Brook, 6 to 5, to give the Phils a five game lead.

Robin Roberts won his fifteenth and fifth straight although he wasn't around at the finish. Jim Konstanty came on for his 49 (the relief job in the ninth inning).

Kiner Hits 30th

The Dodgers dropped to 5½ games off the pace and the awful truth was that the fifth-place Giants were only 2½ games away while fourth-place St. Louis hovered three percentage points in the rear.

The Giants won their eighth straight and seventeenth in their last eighteen when Sheldon Jones turned back the Boston Braves, 2 to 1.

The Cardinals defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 4. Stan Musial sparked a four-run second inning with a two-run homer, his sixteenth. Ralph Kiner got his thirtieth for the Bucs.

Ken Raffensberger and Willie Ramesell hurled the Cincinnati Reds to 10 to 1 and 9 to 0 wins over the Chicago Cubs.

Tigers Defeated

The American League race had Detroit on top by three full games because the Tigers blew out the late innings to the White Sox, 9 to 6.

Meanwhile, the New York Yankees fell into a second place tie with the Cleveland Indians by losing to the Boston Red Sox and Mel Parnell, 7 to 4.

The Athletics topped the Washington Senators, 9 to 0. Cleveland and St. Louis were rained out.

Robinson Meets Fusari Tonight

Welterweight Title At Stake

By JOHN BARRINGTON (I. N. Sports Editor)

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 9.—Sugar Ray Robinson and contender Charley Fusari weigh in at 11 a.m. for tonight's 15-round welterweight title fight, and the ceremony at the scales is causing almost as much interest as the fight itself.

The weighty question is: Can Robinson sweat, starve and steam himself down to the limit of 147 pounds?

Should the champion fail to do so within a two-hour grace period following the weigh-in, he will forfeit both his title and a $2,500 guarantee that he will scale at or under 147.

Donating Purse

Ironically, the $2,500 is exactly $2,499 more than Sugar Ray stands to make from this bout. He is donating all but $1 of his purse to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

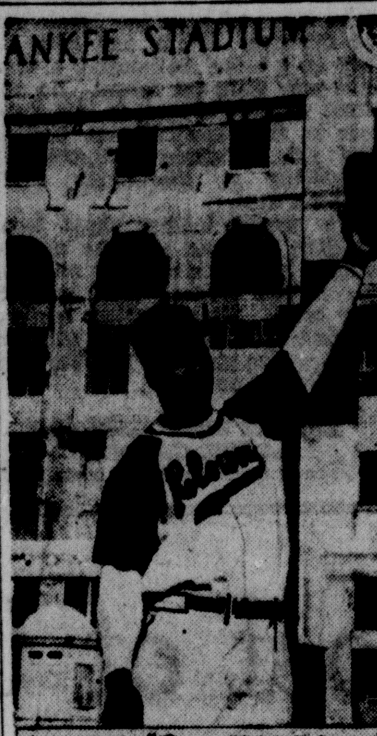

The fund benefits also from 15 percent of the receipts—expected to reach $200,000 in Jersey City's Roosevelt stadium—and a slice from Fusari's purse.

Whatever happens today or tonight, this is likely to be Robinson's last defense of the 147-pound title. Sugar Ray has grown up, at 29, to middleweight size.

STEVENS WILL WORK OUT

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9.—(INS)—First baseman Eddie Stevens received good news today from specialists who have been diagnosing a back ailment which has plagued him for several years.

The 25-year-old Pittsburgh Pirate prospect has a muscular condition which can be corrected by therapy and exercise, the experts ruled, and Stevens will begin working out with the Bucs.

SAM "Piggy" SANDS of Pollock's CLOWNS Negro American League

Indianapolis Clowns Play Senators Here August 16

Like their basketball cousins, the Harlem Globetrotters, the one and only Indianapolis Clowns are known for the capers they cut. Only they cavort on the diamond instead of the court. Under the general management and ownership of Syd Pollock, the Negro American League funmakers come to Flaherty Field, New Castle, on Wednesday night, August 16, for an 8 p.m. air-light exhibition contest against the Mid-Atlantic League New Castle Senators, the first visit of the popular Clowns to this area this season.

Similar to their cage brethren, Pollock's Clowns' drawing power stems from their novel and side-splitting antics before and during their contests. Couple that with the fact that they are capable of playing ball of major league calibre, and never meet any setups, gives you an outstanding attraction in the realm of sports.

High on the list of entertainment which draws the fans to their games, is their exhibition of shadowball, in which the entire infield goes through all the motions of an infield drill, but with an imaginary ball. The Clowns chase flies, scoop up hard hit ground balls, fire rifle pegs across the diamond, pull impossible stops and throws, and do everything short of knocking themselves out to keep the fans in a holiday mood.

But, when the game starts, the Clowns put aside their repertoire of antics and concentrate on winning. But even their intense desire to win doesn't inhibit their tendency and forte to draw belly laughs from the fans in the stands. High-lighted in the comedy atmosphere is the inimitable King Tut, ably assisted by the diminutive Spec Bebob and Peanuts Davis.

Free Horse Show Pleases Crowd

Children of the Margaret Henry Home as well as many other county citizens interested in horses, were present at the free, pleasure horse show of the Lawrence County Saddle and Harness Association last Saturday afternoon and evening.

The show, with horses from the county, Zelenople, and Pittsburgh was a success in every respect.

Many of the winners were Lawrence county people and all of the spectators were adjudged winners because they had attended and had been thoroughly entertained.

The Saddle club will hold a meeting this evening at the club grounds at 8:30.

Canes Lose Center To National Guard

New Castle football team's loss will be the gain of the United States National Guard.

Mitchell Charles, slated for the first team center berth on Phil Bridenbaugh's 1950 grid machine, will depart for Atterbury, Ind., and training early in September with the 229th Field Artillery.

Charles volunteered in the guard of his own free will and there is no rejecting except in extraordinary circumstances.

Outstanding Player

The husky pivotman stepped into a varsity berth last year after Charles Mancine was injured, and distinguished himself as an outstanding defensive player. He played most of every game and was a standout in the championship game against McKeesport at Pitt stadium.

The chances of the Red Hurricanes successfully defending its laurels of the 1948-49 championship years were definitely dimmed by the loss of Charles.

Mrs. Trainor Is Again Champion

Local friends will be pleased to learn that Mrs. George Trainor, of Rochester, N. Y., again captured the women's golf championship of that district, when she disposed of a field of classy competitors in the annual tournament at Rochester.

Mrs. Trainor has held the title for the past five years.

Dr. George Trainor also a very fine golfer, fell by the wayside in the men's event, however. Dr. Trainor is the son of the late Dr. Charles E. Trainor, and Mrs. Anna W. Trainor, of The Castleton.

Games to play

Two very tight races remain in the Lawrence County Baseball league as activity moves into the final weeks of regular seasons play.

A three-team race is in progress for the pennant with Koppel, Wampum and Besemer all closely bunched. These three clubs are assured of a playoff spot.

The second race is for fourth place and a shot at the championship. Hillsville, New Galilee, and Ellwood VFW are neck and neck in this fight.

Last night league officials met at the Sporting Goods store and compiled an accurate standing as well as drafting a schedule for playing previously postponed games.

HILLSVILLE WINS

In diamond action Tuesday night, Hillsville beat New Galilee, 8-2.

Pepe went all the way for Hillsville and allowed only four hits—one a triple by Casiato.

Hillsville blasted 13 safeties in the errorless game. Bob Penwell was the leading stickman with three hits in four trips including a triple. Henry and J. Pezuolo had a single and a triple each.

New Galilee 005 201 x—3 4 0
Hillsville 005 201 x—3 13 0

Batteries: New Galilee—Blatch, P. Shoaft and M. Ceratti; Hillsville—Pepe and Lorelo.

WAMPUM ON TOP

The News sports staff is glad to acknowledge receipt of the box score of the Wampum-Koppel game played last Sunday at Koppel.

The sheet arrived late Tuesday afternoon by mail in time for today's paper.

It is indeed unfortunate that some special effort cannot be made to have the sheets turned in the morning of the day following the game, whether the home team wins or loses. Even a telephone call with the score would aid in keeping the standing up to date and stimulate general league interest in the tight races.

Smolko Racks Up His First Win For Senators; Butler Tigers Here On Thursday

The veteran Joe Smolko, hurled his first win since donning a Senator uniform last night, as he had Niagara Falls at his mercy, with a steady seven-hitter, the locals pounding out a 17-3 decision, on 15 healthy wallops.

The win keeps the Senators close on the heels of the Oil City Refiners who defeated Erie last night 11-6, to retain their half-game lead and seven percentage points. Youngstown topped Johnstown 5-2, in their fight to gain fourth place. Butler was idle.

Butler Here Thursday Night

The Senators will return to Flaherty Memorial Field Thursday night to battle the fourth place Butler Tigers in the first of a four-game series.

Friday night will be "United Engineering Unions Night" and a large crowd will no doubt be on hand to greet the fiery young Senators. Saturday night is "UAW-CIO Bronze Workers Night" at Flaherty Field to honor the Senators.

New Castle and Butler will play a double-header either Friday or Saturday. It has not as yet been decided, and will have to be announced after Manager Cronin returns from Niagara Falls.

Tri-County Dux League To Meet

Tri-County Duckpin league will have its meeting Sunday, August 13, at 2:30 p.m. at the Monaca Band room.

Captains of last year's teams and other teams wanting to join the league are requested to attend this meeting. For more information see league president J. Colades or secretary Paul Perlish.

Stegs-Shamrocks

Play Again Tonight

Allen and Huston defeated the DeCarbo Bombers 7-1 Tuesday evening in the first game of their first round series in the City Softball League playoffs at Gaston Park.

A crowd estimated at nearly 1500 was on hand to see Chris Demos scatter five hits to notch the win. Allen and Huston got seven hits off Spanish.

Stegs and Shamrocks meet tonight in the second game of their series. Stegs won the first game Monday evening 7-4. It will probably be the Tuscani for the Stegs and Richards for the Rocks on the mound.

DeCarbo's drew first blood in the scoring last night when in the second inning DeLillo doubled and came home on Conti's single, for their only run.

A. & H. tied up the game at 1-1 in the fourth when Cooper and Bullano were safe on bunt singles. Pia sacrificed both runners and Mazzari was safe on a fielder's choice to lead the bases. Pace hit a long fly to left field, scoring Cooper.

A. & H. scored six runs in the sixth inning on three hits, two walks and three DeCarbo errors. Cooper led off with a walk. Bullano singled and Pia was purposely singled to load the bases. Mazzari then doubled to clean the sacks. Pace followed with a double to score Mazzari. Vargo was safe on an error, scoring Pace. P. Demos sacrificed. Chris Demos struck out and Tempy was safe on an error scoring Vargo for the sixth run of the inning.

Allen-Huston and DeCarbo's will meet in the second game of the series Thursday evening at Gaston Park at 6:15 p.m.

Simmons Back With Phillies

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Army-bound Curt Simmons was back with the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies today on a month's leave before his National Guard unit goes into active service.

Manager Eddie Sawyer wasn't doing any immediate hand stands at the prospect of having the stylish young lefty available for pitching duty.

"He hasn't had a ball in his hand for ten days," moaned Sawyer. "It'll be just like spring training all over for him."

Simmons, who has a 14-6 record, had been at Indianopolis, Pa., with the 28th Division in which he is a Private in Headquarters Battalion.

He flew into Philadelphia the night of August 1 to hurl in the second game of a twin bill but was kayoed in the fourth inning.

"I don't know how much we can expect from him before he leaves us for good," Sawyer declared.

ARTMAN WILL ASSIST PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Bob Artman, freshman basketball coach at the University of Pittsburgh, today was appointed assistant to the director of athletics.

He replace Charles (Doc) Hartwig who has been seriously ill the last year.

Artman will continue coaching the frosh basketball squad. He is a former Pitt basketball star.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

ORGANIZED BASEBALL's minor leagues, jolted by the collapse of the Class B Colonial circuit and the departure of four teams in other loops, are struggling through their most financially disastrous season since the '30s. Their hope: that the major leagues will adopt remedies at the fall and winter meetings. If they don't, the situation will be even worse in 1951. Most officials place the bulk of the blame on television and radio. Minor-league boss George Trautman told Quick magazine that the decrease in attendance is caused by "major-league broadcasting and televising, poor weather, high cost of living, the international situation and poor ball clubs, in that order." President Frank Shaughnessy of the International League (attendance down some 25 per cent) emphasized the radio point. "The minor-league cities are being blanketed with broadcasts of big league ball games," he told Quick. "Why, in Albany I heard a wire broadcast of a game at 2 o'clock in the morning. So potential minor-league customers pick out the major-league game they want to hear, and stay home with the radio. We've petitioned before for a limitation of broadcasting. Now the majors better take steps." One big-league magnate with his ear to the ground is Brooklyn's Branch Rickey, who has seen nine of 11 Brooklyn-owned farm clubs nose-dive in attendance. Rickey told Quick, "If it is a fact that wide-spread broadcasting and televising are substantially responsible... remedial measures should be attempted before another season begins." The minors hope other magnates are listening.

YOUNG DUCKS, muskrats and marsh birds fall prey to Snappers. Turtles, likewise fish, either in the stream, or those after being caught are left on a 'bank', or shore, which brings to the fore a report by Game Protector John Lohmann of Milford who recently killed a 20 pound turtle. Lohmann reports he watched one turtle that lay on the bank of a slough, its moss-covered shell, resembling a moss-covered stone. A redwing blackbird flew close. The turtle's head shot out from under the shell and its jaws barely missed closing on the intended meal. On another occasion a farmer who had been losing ducklings mysteriously found the cause to be a large snapper in his weed-choked pond. The turtle report recalls to Here & There when Fred Brundert of New Castle fished with friends at Mud Lake, Canada. He put his catch, some large muskrats, on shore, then returned to the lake for more fishing. When he returned to shore, he discovered a turtle had made a big meal out of his catch. And concerning turtles, the soup of the reptile is considered a delicacy. Some feel for the turtles, or in other words, travel along an embankment, and reach their hands into holes and fetch forth the turtle. It is a practice Here & There would not advise uninitiated to attempt, but should they do so, and the jaws of a turtle close down upon a finger, never pull. Permit the turtle to relax its jaws, otherwise one will lose a finger, according to expert feelers.

Moravia-Jackson Third U.P. Open Series Tonight

Third U. P. and Moravia-Jackson meet tonight at Dean Park in the first of a three game series to determine the champion of the church softball league.

Game time is six o'clock. Third U. P. defeated Highland Monday night in a replay of a protested contest.

The playoff was close until the fifth when Kennedy tripled and Jobeck doubled. Henderson tossed a three-hitter at Highland to get credit for the win.

CO-CAPTAINS NAMED

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The College All-Stars will be co-captained by triple-threat halfback Doak Walker of Southern Methodist and giant Minnesota center Clayton Tonnemaker when they take the field Friday night against the Philadelphia Eagles.

A capacity crowd of 10,000 is expected to fill Soldier Field for the game, matching the best of the collegiate gridiron crop and the champions of the National Professional Football league.

Press Box Mutterings

One of the Best New Castle will bid adieu—for a while at least—to one of its all-time great athletes and an outstanding citizen when Dr. Joseph Hartman leaves to take up residence in Greenville in the near future.

Dr. Hartman, who has been principal at Arthur McGill and Highland schools in New Castle for the past eight years, was elected superintendent of schools in Greenville, Pa., and has already assumed his duties.

During his time in New Castle, Dr. Hartman, or Joe as he is more commonly known, compiled one of the finest athletic records in the history of the city.

At New Castle Senior high school he earned 11 varsity letters—four in basketball, four in baseball and three in football.

In his senior year he captained and played halfback on the football team, was named on the all-section WPIAL basketball team, and was leading pitcher on the baseball team.

In one game during the basketball season he scored 31 points as New Castle bowed to Beaver Falls 34-33. That was in the days that one player from each team did all of the foul shooting on the team and Joe did the shooting for New Castle. He put in 17 out of 22 free throws in that game.

During the baseball season Joe averaged around 15 strikeouts per game. In one game he struck out 22 in losing to Wilkesburg 2-1 in 12 innings. In another game he fanned 20 as New Castle defeated Woodlawn (now Aliquippa) 2-1 in eight innings. He gave up only one hit in that game.

Went to Penn State After leaving New Castle high school he enrolled at Penn State where he earned Freshman letters in football, basketball and baseball. He was captain of the Freshman football squad.

He switched to Grove City college at the end of his freshman year and received eight varsity letters—two in basketball and three each in football and baseball. He captained the baseball team in his senior year.

During the time that he was in college he played baseball in the summer for various local teams. Several times he defeated the Homestead Grays while he was with the strong Italian A.A. team.

He graduated from Grove City college in June of 1925 with a Bachelor of Commercial Science degree and began teaching and coaching at Grove City high school in the fall of that year.

From 1925 until 1940 he was football and basketball coach and director of athletics at Grove City high school. From 1926 through 1932 he played professional baseball during the summer.

Played Pro Baseball He started his professional baseball career with Johnstown in the Middle Atlantic League in 1926, being assigned there by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

He had three good years with Johnstown and was sold to Montreal of the International league at the end of the 1928 season. At one time while he was with Johnstown, the New York Yankees offered the Johnnies $10,000 for Hartman's services.

In 1928 he was voted most valuable and most popular player on the Johnstown team.

He hurt his right wrist while trying to get into shape by playing handball before the 1929 season got under way and was bothered by it for the remainder of his baseball career.

Despite the injured wrist he spent three seasons in the International League, turning in some fine pitching performances. His last season in the International League was spent with Jersey City, then a Yankee farm, in 1931. He roomed with George Selkirk and Dixie Walker, young Yankee farmhands during part of that season.

Coaching Career

While coaching at Grove City high school he won several Mercer county football and basketball championships, winning out over such teams as Sharon and Farrell.

His best season as football coach was in 1927 when his Grove City team won 10 and lost only one—that one to New Castle. That year Grove City beat Sharon 66-0.

During his first year of coaching at Grove City, his team played New Castle high school in the dedication of Taggart stadium. He was one of the honored guests and received a basket of flowers from the New Castle high school alumni association.

In 1940 he moved to Franklin high school, where he was director of athletics, football coach and junior varsity basketball coach. In the fall of 1942 he returned to New Castle.

During his past eight years he has done no coaching, but has helped New Castle high school's football teams considerably with his scouting of the opposition.

He received his masters degree at Pitt in 1937 and his doctors degree at Pitt in 1949.

Charles, recognized as champion by the National Boxing Association, is scheduled to defend his crown against Freddie Beshore at Buffalo, N. Y., on August 15, and is expected to come through with little difficulty.

PIAA Has 450 Applications

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association reported today that 450 applicants so far have indicated a desire to be PIAA football officials this year.

Executive director Edmund Wicht said the association's annual written football rules examination for prospective officials will be conducted at centers in each of the 12 PIAA districts September 6.

Wicht said there is still time to apply. Blanks may be obtained at the PIAA's Harrisburg office, he said.

BRAVES GET HAEFNER

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Southpaw pitcher Mickey Haefner has been sold by the Chicago White Sox to the Boston Braves for an amount reported to be slightly more than the $10,000 waiver price.

The hurler, veteran of seven years in the American league, won one and lost six games this season for the Pale Hose while appearing in 23 games.

St. Margaret To Oppose Derry

Having lost to Hanover but having come back to take a game from Scottsdale, St. Margaret will oppose the Derry All-Stars Thursday night at Munhall. Should the Saints win, they'll enter the semi-finals of the State Federation Baseball tourney.

Hambletonian Race Being Staged Today

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 9.—(INS)—The silver anniversary running of the Hambletonian takes place over the kite-shaped mile track in this sleepy hollow village on the Hudson today.

Well-matched field of 13 of the best trotters in the country will race for the richest prize in the history of harness racing.

This time the blue ribbon classic for trotters will have a gross value of $75,209 of which 55 percent, or $41,365 will go to the winner.

The first horse to win two heats takes down the lion's share of the purse.
